

ANTONY GOBRIEL

PhD Student in Economics — Economic History of Migration and Demography
IÉSEG School of Management — UMR 9221 – LEM, CNRS · University of Lille
a.gobriel@ieseg.fr — Website — LinkedIn

FIELDS OF INTEREST

Primary: International Migration (F22), Labor Economics (J21, J24), Economic History (N33)
Secondary: Policy Evaluation (J08), Political Economy (P16, D72), Applied Econometrics (C21, C23)

EDUCATION

PhD in Economics Université de Lille - IÉSEG School of Management Focus: Family Economics, Migration, and Applied Econometrics.	2024 – 2027 (Expected)
Master 2: Politiques Publiques Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne Thesis: Assessing the Altruistic Hypothesis: Social Policy's Impact on Remittances among Egyptian Migrants.	2024
Master 1: Development Economics Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne Thesis: The Impact of GVC Participation on Firm Performance in the MENA region during the Pandemic.	2023
Double Bachelor Degree in Economics Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne & Cairo University	2023

WORKING PAPERS

The Rise of International Migration: Evidence from Genealogical Data (2026)
with Simone Moriconi and Riccardo Turati
Abstract: Research on the drivers of historical European migration has been constrained by the scarcity of longitudinal data. Leveraging a novel genealogical dataset, this paper analyzes the transitions between regional, intra-European, and transatlantic migration flows. Unlike traditional census records, which provide cross-sectional snapshots, genealogical data enables the continuous tracking of individuals across their entire life cycles and geographical trajectories, enabling the study of the historical determinants of migration.

CONFERENCES & PRESENTATIONS

Presentations

FaMiGrowth Research Webinar Organizer and Presenter	Jan. 2026
LEM PhD Day Université de Lille - LEM (UMR 9221) Topic: Early-stage research on historical migration flows.	Jan. 2025

Discussions

LEM Doctoral Seminar Discussant for "Drowning assets? The impact of floods on real estate" (Fajeau et al.).	Feb. 2026
Long-Run Dynamics in Economics (LORDE) Discussant for "The Roman roots of the Western European trade linkages" (de Pierpont de Burnot. C).	April. 2026

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Researcher Egyptian Competition Authority Developed a market neutrality index and synthesized developments in digital economy law.	2022
Researcher Cairo Center for Development Benchmarking Quantitatively evaluated a World Bank project impacts and designed survey protocols.	2021

SKILLS & Academic activities

Technical Skills

Software: RStudio (Advanced), Stata (Advanced), Python (intermediate), Microsoft Office Suite.

Languages: Arabic (Native), French (C2), English (C2), Spanish (B1).

Academic Activities

- IFlame seminar organizer (2024 – Present).
- PhD Students representative (2026 – Present).